We are Aeger Group

Specialists in securing risk-exposed assets and establishing preparedness

We are a specialist threat consultancy committed to assisting our clients in building resilient, secure, compliant organisations that respond robustly to their shifting environments.

We specialise in assisting our partners in solving complex challenges, converting risk into opportunity, and cultivating responsible risk-taking.

We are dedicated to consistently improving sustainable value for our esteemed clients, fostering enduring partnerships, and delivering exceptional products and services that enable them to achieve their strategic objectives.

Jahn-Helge Flesvik is the CEO, partner, and co-founder of Aeger Group AS, which was established in 2012. He has worked in the military for over 20 years and ended his career in The Armed Forces' intelligence service, where he worked with Norwegian operations abroad. Jahn-Helge is a senior advisor in safety and emergency preparedness. He is able to see complex patterns and, based on this, advises our customers to put in place robust and efficient systems to deal with their challenges related to security.

Phil Nel is an exceptionally skilled security expert with extensive experience in a wide range of industries. With a background of working in 14 different countries, Phil has gained a global outlook in his field. He also holds an esteemed business management degree from the prestigious University of the Witwatersrand, which perfectly complements his impressive professional profile.

Maninder Pal Singh is a senior cybersecurity advisor with over 20 years of experience in the cybersecurity and information security domains. He is an expert in helping organizations achieve digital transformation with cutting-edge solutions. He holds prestigious credentials such as CISSP, CCISO, and CISM and has multiple patents and publications in the field of cyber. His core competencies include managing cyber risks, securing cloud environments, designing business continuity plans, and ensuring security governance and compliance.
